

Early Literacy at the Library

Literacy is far bigger than reading and writing – it's knowing how to use all kind of different “codes” to navigate the world, from counting change to finding your way to school.

Getting a head start on things like print literacy (using and understanding written language), physical literacy (making your body do what you want), and social literacy (getting along with other children and adults) is essential to success in school, and to developing a love of learning that will last a child a lifetime.

You'll find a number of programs at the Drumheller Public Library to help you discover and practice early literacy skills with your child. This brochure will tell you what each program offers, so you can make the best choice for your family.

We'll see you at the library!

Sisters, Brothers, and Dayhomes

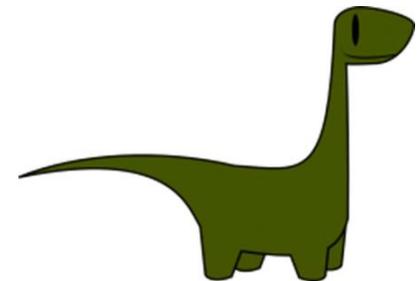

Our preschool programming (Alphasaurus Preschool Storytime) is designed for children between the ages of 3 and 5. Older and younger children are welcome, with the expectation that they will participate in the program to the best of their ability.

Preschool children are also generally welcome at programs designed for school-aged children, provided parents participate with them.

Our programs are free, and most are designed for patrons to drop in.

If you have questions, please call us at 403-823-1371, stop by the library, or check out our website at www.drumhellerlibrary.ca.
